The Daily Union Vedette.

THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 23, 1865.

A Sign of the Times.

The confirmation of the good news that Charleston had fallen, was made the occasion of much rejoicing among those whose hearts beat responsive to the inspirations of patriotism, even here in Utah. The denizens of Salt Lake City were spectators to an exhibition of jubilant gladness on that account somewhat surprising to ourselves, it must be confessed, and, we venture to think, that it was not less so to those who had no part nor lot therein.

On the forenoon of the 21st inst. when the welcome news arrived—welcome to many, at least—a procession of sleighs was formed on the main street of the city, several of the enthusiastic occupants bearing aloft the old banner, the teams being gaily decorated with the same glorious emblem, and thus provided the procession drove along the principal avenues of the Mormon Capital, wakening the wintry echoes with exultant cheers.

After honoring (?) with several visits the street where prophets most do congregate, without, however, kindling any symptoms of enthusiasm in the throng about the "Lion House," notwithstanding the band executed the "Kingdom's Coming," amid the waving of flags, for their especial benefit, the procession proceeded to Camp Douglas where a different reception awaited them. They found none here unwilling to participate in the rejoicings of the occasion; none whose blood, frozen with disloyalty or burned to cinders with fanaticism, refused to feel the ennobling thrill of patriotism.

In the warm and ardent clasping of manly hands; in the impulse which made men as children, embracing like brothers met after long absence; in the unbidden manifestations of gladness gushing up like waters from fountains concealed—in all these things we saw evidences of that deep and abiding love of country, which has borne the Nation so triumphantly through the great struggle now nearly over, and which still lives even in bosoms where for a time it may have been concealed by the influences of treason, as living streams flow on, though perhaps unseen, beneath the icy embrace of winter.

But why was it, that, with one honorable exception, no Mormon took part in the demonstrations of joy—why did they remain mere lookers on without manifesting any signs that they too were partakers in the happiness of loyal men? True, the waving of handkerchiefs indicated that some there were who dared to indulge the flattering whispers of hope, and a few cheers, here and there, from the crowd that thronged the walks, showed that the restraint imposed upon them could not entirely suppress the natural thrill of patriotism. But the leaders showed no sign, that could be construed into an evidence of gratitude for the triumph of the National arms—and wherefore? Does the fall of Charleston, where began the fulfillment, as they have believed, of a favorite Mormon prophecy, look as though its other predictions had been indefinitely postponed? Is it for this they are silent?

Perchance they are thinking that, like the witches in "Macbeth," evil spirits sometimes tempt men to their ruin with deceitful promises, and, maybe, they begin unwillingly to suspect that "these are of them." There would be reason in such suspicion.

THE Volunteers at Camp Connor gave a grand ball on the 30th of January, in honor of the Battle of Bear River. We have received a communication giving a full description thereof, which we shall publish as soon as we have room.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY VEDETTE.]

New York, Feb. 17th.

All doubts regarding the occupation of Branchville, by Sherman, seem to be dissipated, by a dispatch from the Herald's Fort Fisher correspondent, announcing its capture on the 12th, after two days hard fighting. It was brought to Wilmington, N. C., on the 12th by a courier, who, at great peril, rode across the country with a dispatch from Sherman to Porter. Wilmington papers say that nine refugees who reached Smithville confirm the statement.

The Richmond journals of Wednesday last says: The War Department has the official announcement of the evacuation of Branchville, which was consequent upon the occupation of Orangeburg on the north of it, on the railroad leading to Columbia, by a large force of Sherman's infantry; but don't mention any fighting in the vicinity. They report, however, that Kilpatrick had reached a point within one hundred miles of Augusta on the 10th, and was attacked by Wheeler and driven five miles with considerable loss, on Tuesday last. They state there was a Union column within a few miles of Augusta, and more important still, they say that on Wednesday Sherman's advance had reached the south bank of the Congaree, within five miles of Columbia, situated on the north bank of that river, to which side the rebels had fallen back. A battle was considered imminent.

The Herald's Fort Fisher correspondent says: On the 8th inst., with about fifteen men, Lieut. Cushing captured the town of Shollate, garrisoned by one hundred rebels, and held it several hours, during which they destroyed a large amount of stores, army supplies and provisions, and about eighty bales of cotton, and escaped without loss. On the night of the 10th he made reconnaissance of Cape Fear river, actually penetrating up to the wharves of Wilmington, where he remained long enough to gain much valuable information. He discovered the rebel pirate Chickamauga sunk in the channel of the river. On the next night, with four boats crews, he went up to the rebel fort Anderson, and managed to get close enough under its walls to hear an officer, supposed to be Gen. Bragg, haranguing his men on the last ditch and the last stroke for Southern independence.

February 18th.

The Richmond papers contain a very interesting disclosure regarding the corruption in Jeff Davis' Cabinet, and gives an insight into the causes of its recent dissolution.

A committee of the Richmond Congress has presented a communication denouncing Mr. Seddon, late Secretary of War, as guilty of gross swindling, and the Richmond journals make statements which add to his guilt. We have also developments regarding Hoo's Tennessee campaign in Selma, Alabama and Mississippi, in which two regiments of his army returned to Corinth with only eighty-four men left out of thirteen hundred.

The Richmond Examiner announces that negroes have caught quite a military fever in that City, and that they are already forming organizations of volunteers for the rebel army.

New York, Feb. 18th.

A respite is granted in the case of the Lake Erie rebel pirate, Capt. Beall, and he won't be hanged on Governor's Island to-day, as at first decided.

The World says: Information has been received in this City, to the effect that Scofield's corps had landed at Maconborough; thus putting it beyond doubt that Wilmington is, by this time, closely besieged, if not already in the hands of our forces. Various rumors were current yesterday touching the evacuation of the City, but no confirmation is yet received. By landing at Maconborough Scofield will avoid the necessity of a march up the Peninsula.

Washington, Feb. 18th.

The President has issued a proclamation convening the Senate in an extraordinary session for the transaction of business on the 4th of March, at noon.

Quebec, Feb. 18th.

The House in Committee, last night, adopted the appropriation of $330,000 for the expenses of volunteers sent to the frontier to prevent raids upon the U. S.; also, appropriating $50,000 to make good the money improperly returned to the St. Albans raiders.

New York, Feb. 18th.

The Herald's Paris correspondent says, he knows positively, that formal propositions have lately been made to France and England by the rebel authorities, with the object of securing the recognition, on the basis that slavery shall be abolished; and the advantageous guarantee that these propositions are not yet, and from present appearance, won't be accepted.

The Times disbelieves the report that rebel refugees were sent back from Matamoras to Texas, and that Canby is to retaliate on Story, and probably Karsade.

Philadelphia, Feb. 18th.

The Bulletin's Washington special says: The Richmond papers of the 16th announce that Sherman's main column reached Kingsville Junction. Communications south of Florence, on the Manchester and Florence railroad, was interrupted. Beauregard is reported as being on the north bank of the Congaree river. Kingville is on the north side of the Congaree, and forty-one miles north of Branchville, and twenty-five miles south-east of Columbia.

Washington, Feb. 18th.

The Star has the following dispatch from City Point, Va., 17th: The rebel flag of truce boat, Wm. Allison, while on her upward trip from Cox's Landing, this P. M., was blown up by a torpedo boat and went down almost immediately. No prisoners were on board at the time of this catastrophe, which probably arose from one of the enemy's own torpedoes, which has been in the water a long time.

City Point, Feb. 18th.

The following is taken from the Richmond dispatch of Tuesday: Sherman took possession of Columbia yesterday. The intelligence was communicated yesterday by Beauregard, in the official dispatch. Columbia is situated on the north bank of the Congaree river, below the confluence of the Saluda and Broad rivers. From Beauregard's dispatch it appears that on Thursday evening the enemy approached the south bank of the Congaree and threw a number of shells into the city. During the night they moved up the river and yesterday morning forded the Saluda and Broad rivers. Whilst they were crossing the river our troops under Beauregard evacuated Columbia, and the enemy soon after took possession. The fall of Columbia necessitates the evacuation of Charleston, which we think likely is already under process of evacuation.

(Signed) GRANT.

New York, Feb. 19th.

The Herald's correspondent says: An expedition consisting of 300 picked men, from the Michigan cavalry, after a march of forty miles and meeting no opposition, reached the Charlotte Iron Furnace on Water Lick Creek, which the rebels had in full blast, preparing iron for shot and shell. The establishment with all its machinery and material, was destroyed. The force then returned, meeting with but trifling annoyance from guerrillas.

The main part of the rebel army is said to be near Stanton.

Washington, Feb. 18th.

The Richmond Examiner of the 18th states that dispatches received from an official of the Treasury Department at Columbia, are to the effect that Sherman's advance was so near Columbia that the home guard and citizens were turned out to aid in resisting the Union forces, and skirmishing had commenced near the city.

The Senate Committee on the Rebellion States, in amendments to the reconstruction of the bill as reported to day to provide for the recognition by the rest of the State government of Tennessee, if such government shall be established by loyal citizens in conformity with the Constitution, prior to May 1st, next. The report also provides that the Constitution of Tennessee shall prescribe, first: That no person shall vote who held office in the confederate military government, higher than Colonel, or a civil officer, unless it be ministerial. Second: That slavery shall be forever prohibited, and no State or confederate debt under action of the usurping power shall be recognized or paid by the State, and no rebel law of confiscation shall be binding.

During four days of the present week over 200 rebel deserters came within the lines of the army of the Potomac, a d this morning forty-six arrived here; all of whom deserted from the rebel picket posts on the nights of the 14th and 20th, and belonged to Virginia regiments and the remainder to Georgia and South Carolina regiments.

Washington, Feb. 18th.

Richmond papers of the 16th state: The enemy are quiet in their entrenchments on Hatcher's Run. Throughout Tuesday night the rumbling of wagons and artillery was heard on Grant's lines in the neighborhood of Deep Bottom, and it was supposed that Grant was transferring a heavy body of troops to the north side. This may be simply a return of the troops sent over to Petersburg to assist in the Hatcher's Run fight.

last Monday. It was reported yesterday, that our troops were evacuating Wilmington, but the report is not confirmed.

An official report of dispatches to the Yankee papers, state that Gen. Terry was still in the vicinity of Fort Fisher waiting for Gen. Hooker. Hitherto the Yankee press have represented Terry as about to march towards Wilmington with the confident expectation of taking it; but Fort Anderson has proved a more effectual obstruction than they bad anticipated.

Gen. Baker is in command of our forces at Goldsborough, and reports to the War Department that he has reason to believe the enemy are concentrating at Newbern. They have with them material for repairing the railroad from Newbern to Kingston. Scouts who come into Kingston on the night of the 11th report that Gen. Foster is in command at Newbern, and that 2000 of the 18th army corps arrived there, making the number of troops at that Post about 5000. It is reported and believed in Kingston that the enemy have landed two locomotives and two cargoes of railroad iron at Morehead city, Va., and it is apprehended in Kingston that the enemy design really a movement in that direction.

No official report is received from any part of S. C. up to yesterday. At the last accounts the enemy held Orangeburg. On the Columbia branch railroad our forces were falling back toward Columbia. Our troops abandoned Branchville last Sunday night. Wheeler, last Friday, attacked and whipped Kilpatrick, at Aiken, fifteen miles northeast of Augusta, and drove him back five miles in the direction of Branchville.

The Augusta papers, of Wednesday, state, at that time, Slocum was at Windsor, ten miles west of Aiken, advancing on Augusta, with his right flank being protected by South Edisto, and his left by Kilpatrick's cavalry. Two days after this Kilpatrick was whipped by Wheeler. Slocum has with him the 15th, 16th, 14th and 20th corps, which compose the force operating against Columbia and Charleston. This leaves one corps of Sherman's army unaccounted for; but we presume it has been left at Savannah.

(Signed)

GRANT.

S. D. Lee and Wade Hampton were recently appointed Lieutenant-Generals, which has been confirmed by the Confederate Senate. The promotion of Hampton makes him rank Wheeler and puts him in command over the cavalry now operating against Sherman.

The Examiner of the 16th says: At Kingsville Sherman would be able to destroy the Columbia Charlotte, Wilmington and Manchester railroads.

The Examiner of the 15th has a long article against the use of negroes as soldiers, but keeping the responsibility to Lee, who has urgently called for a large force of them.

The Whig of the 16th states: Sherman has got somewhat the start of their forces and that apprehensions are felt at Columbia that he would reach there before he could be overtaken.

Echols has succeeded Breckinridge in command in East Tennessee.

City Point, Feb. 20th.

To Stanton: The following dispatch has just been received—signed: Grant:

The Richmond Examiner of to-day says: Charleston was evacuated on Tuesday last. (Signed,) WERZEL.

Maj. Gen.

New York, Feb. 20th.

During the recent debate in the rebel Senate, the food question came up, when it transpired that the vast yield of the Valley of Virginia, which had in former years been always secured, last year fell into our hands, and that this was the result of calling into the armies details for gathering it and that thousands of soldiers' families had not tasted meat for the last six months and were living on a short supply of bread; not alone that, but the soldiers themselves have also been without meat for a long time.

Washington, Feb. 20th.

The President has approved the bill for the mail steamship service between San Francisco and China.

In formation from the army of the Potomac as late as yesterday morning, reports all quiet. Deserters are constantly coming in and are more numerous than for a long time; they have averaged over seventy a day for the past week. Among them are several officers and the utmost despondency prevails through their ranks. Since the last fight they seem determined to keep the field no longer, as they claim they can never gain their independence, and see no reason why they should remain to be killed also. Deserting is so general in the rear of their own lines that Lee has issued an order for the arrest of every man found half a mile away from camp or his post.

Washington, Feb. 18th.

Richmond papers of the 16th state: The enemy are quiet in their entrenchments on Hatcher's Run. Throughout Tuesday night the rumbling of wagons and artillery was heard on Grant's lines in the neighborhood of Deep Bottom, and it was supposed that Grant was transferring a heavy body of troops to the north side. This may be simply a return of the troops sent over to Petersburg to assist in the Hatcher's Run fight.

New York, Feb. 20th.

The foreign mail has the following:

The Nord says there was a meeting of the Privy Council on the 11th in Paris, and we are informed that the affairs of America and the connection they may have with the Mexican Empire forbid that the principal object of the meeting with France is not without uneasiness, as to the attitude which the United States may assume towards the new Empire, when the conclusion of the war has placed at the disposal of the Republic a large and tried army, with numerous and skilled officers, and that four years struggle has changed the state hitherto exclusively closed to commercial and maritime interests. The recent resolution of the Washington Senate must have assisted in increasing this uneasiness; nevertheless, according to our correspondent, the discussion in which the Privy Council was engaged, ended in this resolution: That for the present it would be wrong to give way to exaggerated fears, and that in the face of the pacific and conciliatory assurances which the American diplomacy continues to give, the best course to adopt is to abstain provisionally from all movements, without however, indulging in a false security.

Washington, Feb. 20th.

Richmond papers of the 18th have the following: Our Kingston, N. C. correspondent learns that the Yankees are fitting out an expedition against Weldon, and that five locomotives and railroad iron have certainly been landed at Marehead by the Yankees.

IMPORTANT TO EASTERN BOUND TRAVELERS.—During the prevalence of Indian difficulties East, while so much of uncertainty and danger are connected with the undertaking of a journey Overland to the States, it will prove a matter of congratulation to the traveling public that a spirited competition is being carried on by rival steamers between San Francisco and New York, the effect of which has been to bring the rate of passage to a figure so low as to make an ocean trip more economical in point of fact than one overland, under even the most favorable circumstances. The Pacific Mail Steamer Constitution, which sailed on the 13th from San Francisco, carried passengers at the following rates: Outside Cabin, $150; Inside do., $110; Second Cabin, $60; Steerage, $35. The Moses Taylor, of the Nicaragua Transit Co., sailing the same day, carried first cabin passengers for $90; second do., $50; steerage, $30.

As this includes the item of board during the trip, it will appear an extremely reasonable for every class of passengers. The travel by steamer from San Francisco is unusually heavy at the present time. Sailing days are the 3d, 13th and 23d of each month.

THEY have discovered a new extract, called aureantine, produced from the resinous fluid, which flows from a peculiar species of pine indigenous to some localities in the mountains of California. It is said to possess many excellent qualities which make it exceedingly valuable. It has the odor of orange blossoms readily dissolves all mineral or vegetable oils, without affecting colors, and is therefore useful in cleaning cloth, and is a sovereign balm for many of the ills to which humanity is heir. The discovery of its many uses seems to have caused quite an excitement in California.

THE glorious old "Sixty Ninth" is now commanded by Major Richard Mahoney.

A PRESENT TO THE PRESIDENT.—The loaded shell fired into the Kearsarge by the Alabama, has been sent from Boston to Washington, as a present from Capt. Winslow to President Lincoln, the latter having expressed a wish to have it as a trophy.

RELIEF OF THE PEOPLE OF SAVANNAH.—Measures are being taken in the principal Eastern cities for the relief of the citizens of Savannah. $25,000 was raised in Boston on January 12th, for this object.

THE Catholic Church property of San Francisco is over half a million dollars.

Local Matters.

THE NEWS FROM THE EAST.—Tuesday last was a grand and glorious day for Camp Douglas. In the forenoon, the news reached Camp of the triumphant march of the Union army into Charleston. At about 2 P. M., our ears were greeted with the booming of cannon and the loud and heart-felt huzzas of our Volunteers. A detachment of artillery, under command of Lieut. Francis Honeyman, fired a salute of twenty-one guns, the Band played the National air, and the air was filled with the booming of cannon, music and the cheers of our officers and men. Almost simultaneous with the outburst of patriotic enthusiasm from the officers and soldiers, there arrived in Camp a long procession of two and four horse sleighs from Salt Lake City, with the glorious Stars and Stripes floating both from the sleighs and ears of each horse attached. The sleighs were loaded with the (so called) Gentiles and loyal merchants and citizens of S. L. City.

They were cordially and enthusiastically received by the several officers in Camp. After spending an hour or so in conviviality and general congratulation and rejoicing, three additional sleighs from Camp were decorated with the Flag of our Union and placed in the procession, with the Camp Douglas Brass Band taking the lead. Previous to their leaving for town they made several circuits around the Camp Parade Ground, and as each sleigh passed the soldiers several quarters, they were greeted with such hearty cheers as can only proceed from the souls of the true blue."

About 5 p. m. the procession left camp for S. L. City, the Volunteers cheering them on their way. After passing through several of the streets of the city, a circle was formed on Main street, when Capt. Hempstead (formerly editor Vedette) was loudly called for. The Captain was immediately forthcoming, and responded to the call in one of his usual able and happy speeches, after which Judge Titus was honored with a call, to which he replied in a most excellent address. The participants in the joyous occasion then dispersed, well satisfied that they had done honor to the victory of the "Union Army."

THE Thermometer at Camp Connor, Idaho, has descended to 35° below zero, on several days of the present winter. The soldiers at the post also experienced the shock of an earthquake on the 5th of February. It is said to have resembled the sound of distant cannonading. The snow fell to such a depth that the mail is carried by men on snow-shoes. Some of the men have had their feet severely frozen thereby.

GURNEY & CO. at Hooper & Eldridge's old stand, have eighteen Good Mules and a lot of Harness and Wagons for sale.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH-DAY.—Yesterday being the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, a salute of twenty-one guns was fired at this post.

A LAWYER AND HIS CLIENT.—On this circuit Mr. Hullock's honorable feeling and his courageous conduct were on one occasion tried and exhibited. In a case which he led, he was particularly instructed not to produce a certain deed unless it should be absolutely required. Notwithstanding this injunction, he produced it before it was necessary, with the view of deciding the business at once. It proved to have been forged by his client's attorney; a Mr. Justice Bayley, who was trying the cause, ordered the deed to be impounded, that it might be made the subject of a prosecution. Before this could be done, Hullock requested leave to inspect it; and on its being handed to him, immediately returned it to his bag. The Judge remonstrated, but in vain. "No power on earth," Mr. H. replied, "should induce him to surrender it. He had inadvertently put the life of a fellow creature in peril; and though he had acted to the best of his discretion, he should never be happy again were a fatal result to ensue." The Judge continued to insist on the re-delivery of the deed, but declined taking decisive measures till he had consulted the associate Judge.—While retiring for that purpose, the deed was of course destroyed and the attorney escaped.—Foss's History of the Judges

THE FREEDMEN IN MARALAND.—The Baltimore American says:

Large numbers of the freedmen, whether from choice or necessity, will remain at their former homes, and make the scenes of their compulsory toil their continued dwelling place. This has been the case to a large extent in Maryland. But, as one of its results, we have seen the disposition on the part of the late slaveholders to adopt a system of labor which practically amounts to enslavement, and which in effect abrogates the laws intended for the protection of the freeman. The tide of public opinion has set so strongly against these efforts at forced apprenticeship and other counteractions and evasions of the plain provisions of the new Constitution, that in many cases the slaveholders have desisted from their attempts. But in numerous other instances they have persevered in their recourse to such hindrances and resistance, and thereby defeated the intent of the people.

THE soldiers of Grant's army, in order to supply themselves with water, have dug wells from twenty to thirty feet deep. The number of wells about Petersburg is said to be at least five hundred.

"MR. JENKINS," said a tradesman at Sydney to a recent arrival there, "will it suit you to settle that old account of yours?" "No, sir; you are mistaken in the man I am not one of the old settlers."

"WHAT'S whisky bringing?" inquired a large dealer in that article. "Bringing men to the gallows and women and children to want," was the truthful reply.

Foote expressed the belief that a certain miser would take the beam out of his own eyes if he could sell the timber.

THE readiest and best way to find out what future duty will be, is to do present duty.
